

Why Pharma Logistics?

The Reverse Distribution Experts

Considering fierce competition and decreased revenue from prescription dispensing across the industry, it's more difficult for pharmacies to profit solely from dispensing medication. Citing the 2017 NCPA Digest from the National Community Pharmacists Association (NCPA), "Below-cost reimbursement and unpredictable DIR fees in Medicare Part D, combined with other marketplace pressures, have had a profound impact on recent gross margins, falling by 5 percent over the past three years."

Increasingly, pharmacies are forced to rely more heavily on other aspects of the business, such as general retail and reverse distribution.

Pharmacy owners already play so many roles—Director, Maintenance, Purchaser, Dispenser—that it can be a strain to add the role of Accountant. Partnering with a trusted reverse distributor will free up time to focus on customer care.

At Pharma Logistics, we specialize in pharmaceutical reverse distribution, handling the return credit process for retail pharmacies, independent pharmacies and other healthcare providers across the nation. Whether you need to get your credits more quickly, are looking for a convenient way to ship your expired drugs or would like more visibility into the status of your returned products, Pharma Logistics has a seamless service to ensure compliance and improve profitability.
